JFK Former Rep. Floyd Fithian, who is now Sen. Paul Simon's top aide, was a member of the House committee that investigated John Kennedy's assassination. He's told U.S. Rep. Louis Stokes, who was chairman of the committee, that he thinks the panel's files should be opened. But care should be taken so people aren't injured by raw data. And what about Oliver Stone's controversial film? Fithian thinks there was probably a conspiracy, but he thinks it may have involved the mob. He certainly does not think Lyndon Johnson, the CIA, the FBI and everyone else fingered by Stone was in on it.
